"Lord have mercy upon us and incline our hearts to keep this law." This was written into the 1662 Book of Common Prayer. It was thus not only possible for first cousins to marry each other; it was also quite common, having been legalized in the 1540's.

Of Hathaway: Accolades....and a Caveat

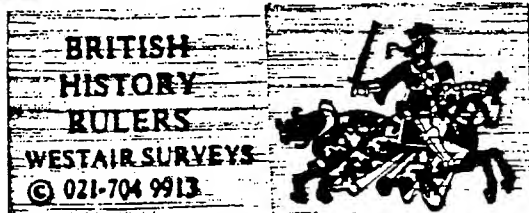

Although it has its detractors, J. R. B. Hathaway's North Carolina Historical and Genealogical Register is an excellent starting point for the budding "Old Albemarle" genealogist.

Working directly from the public records of the old precincts, before they began their mass exodus to Raleigh, Hathaway compiled a remarkable record of the early settlers and their lives in the old colony. If your ancestors were here, chances are overwhelming that you will find something of them in Hathaway. (As Washington County Library has the eleven books, but has not been able to secure the three index volumes, local researchers are advised to photo-copy the most needed index pages, at Edenton, for example, in order to research here.)

Now for the caveat, which Hathaway, himself, issues...."We do not propose to publish anything relating to any crimes--political offences only will be published. and again...we shall tell of the birth of their children, the marriage of their sons and daughters, the successes and distinctions they achieved in life, (and) silently cover with the mantle of charity their faults.

So after researching Hathaway for good, basic, parlor-conversation stuff, right quickly turn ye then to the venerable old Colonial Records of North Carolina, and the North Carolina Higher Court Records, both of which will be delighted to tell you if your ancestor was hanged for murder, or received 10 lashes for fornication and adultery.

Hyde County Historical Society had their meeting for October at Makelyville, N.C. They presented an interesting program with a host of good speakers followed by a very delicious pig-pickin' on the beautiful waters of Hyde County. Many old and precious memories were shared by members of the Smith and Makely families. It was definitely the most appropriate spot for the Fall Meeting & thoroughly enjoyed by all attending.

DEADLINE / All Washington County Genealogical Society Members, please, send me your info for Charter Member Booklet before December 31, 1990 if you'd like it included. We don't want anyone left out.

REMEMBER / Membership fees are due and your next issue (December) will be the last issue you will receive if your dues haven't been paid for 1991. When you send payment, please send me a list of all surnames you are interested in so I can include them in the Member Poster which I'm compiling to be mailed to each member.

REMEMBER / All queries are free and you may send as many as you'd like to me. They will be published in future issues as space allows.

NOTE: One of our members, Patricia Monte is the new curator for the Port O' Plymouth Roanoke River Museum in Washington County, N.C. She is collecting objects on local history to put in the museum. After finding the Land Grant of Bird Land in Plymouth, N.C., she would appreciate any information on the family of Bird Land. Send info to: Patricia Monte-107 Anne Street-Plymouth, N.C. 27962 or call 919-793-1377. (Anyone having objects of history from Washington County which you'd loan Patricia for display at the museum would be very much appreciated!)

New Officers were chosen at our last meeting for 1991 and they are:

President - Veronica Haskett

Vice-President - Edwin Norman

Recording Secretary - Peggy Adams

Treasurer - Vance Haskett

Thanks to the Onslow Genealogical Society for the recognition of our Society in their June issue. There are four kinds of bones in an organization: ("The Bulletin"-Northern Az. Gene. Soc.)

Wishbones - who spend their time wishing someone else would do the work.

Jawbones - who do all the talking, but very little else.

Knuckle Bones - who knock everything anyone else tries to do.

Backbones - who get under the load and do the work!
